

DEPARTMENT OF LIFELONG LEARNING AND EXTENSION (DLLE)

As a part of extension activities conducted under Department of Lifelong Learning and Extension as per the theme and guidelines by University of Mumbai below is a list of regular activities and brief about them:

1. Essay writing and Poster exhibition:

The students are given topics related to social issues such as Save Food, Save Environment, Child Labor, Industrial Pollution, Women Feticide etc. To make the students aware and to let them read about these issues, essay writing competition is held.

As the art speaks louder than words, poster preparation is also included. It challenges the students' creativity. The posters are a blend of art and social issues which are displayed and exhibited in the college campus and at schools, libraries etc.

2. Survey of women's status:

Social status of women in various regions of India varies with the geographic location, availability of transport, communication facilities, education, inclusion of women to produce income etc. Also, with the time and developments, the status of women changes. Therefore, a survey of women's status is conducted annually in the region.

3. Elocution competition:

Being an effective way to convey to express the thoughts and opinions on important social concerns such as Child Labor, Women Feticide, Illiteracy, Social Media etc. elocution completions are organized. Students need to refer various resources such as internet, reference books, and discussions with experts to prepare the content.

4. Street plays:

To reach effectively to the crowd and to spread the message in masses, street plays are composed and presented. Also, students participate in different street play competitions organized at various levels by Mumbai University.

All the activities conducted under DLLE promote the holistic development of students and thus the society.
